

Abstract of the Disclosure

An aircraft position light employs selected colored LEDs to produce a white appearing warning light with a reduced light component in the amplification spectrum of night vision imaging equipment. A combination of amber and cyan LEDs are selected to produce approximately three 5 amber flux units for every cyan flux unit resulting in a white composite light. Both of the selected LEDs have dominant wavelengths of less than 600nm.

10 G:\1wpdocs\Tjm\WEN\wen.272.us\wen.272.us.specification.doc